Feature Review Papers in Section Applied Industrial Technologies

Message from the Guest Editors

This Special Issue of Applied Sciences (MDPI), entitled "Feature Review Papers in Section Applied Industrial Technologies", aims to consolidate and disseminate comprehensive insights into the latest advancements, challenges, and future directions in the field of industrial technologies. This Special Issue will showcase in-depth review articles that cover a broad spectrum of applied industrial technologies, including, but not limited to, manufacturing processes, automation, robotics, materials science, and industrial IoT. This Special Issue will focus on the identification of emerging trends, innovative applications, and the integration of cutting-edge technologies into industrial settings. These reviews are intended to serve as valuable resources for researchers, engineers, and practitioners, providing a detailed overview of the current state of the art and offering perspectives on future research and development.

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

As the world of science becomes ever more specialized, researchers may lose themselves in the deep forest of the ever increasing number of subfields being created. This open access journal Applied Sciences has been started to link these subfields, so researchers can cut through the forest and see the surrounding, or quite distant fields and subfields to help develop his/her own research even further with the aid of this multi-dimensional network.
