Artificial Intelligence in Disease Diagnosis, Treatment, Risk Forecast, and Health Informatics

Message from the Guest Editors

This Special Issue of the journal Applied Sciences, entitled “Artificial Intelligence in Diseases Diagnosis, Treatment, Risk Forecast, and Health Informatics”, aims to place particular attention on contributions dealing with practical applications, in which artificial intelligence techniques play a key role and achieve state-of-the-art performances. All interested authors are invited to submit their newest results on disease diagnosis, treatment, risk forecast, and health informatics for possible publication in this Special Issue. All papers need to present original, previously unpublished work and will be subject to the normal standards and peer-review processes of this journal. Potential topics include, but are not limited to: -

- Disease diagnosis
- Treatment
- Risk forecast
- Health informatics
- Machine learning in disease diagnosis, treatment, risk forecast, and health informatics.

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

As the world of science becomes ever more specialized, researchers may lose themselves in the deep forest of the ever increasing number of subfields being created. This open access journal Applied Sciences has been started to link these subfields, so researchers can cut through the forest and see the surrounding, or quite distant fields and subfields to help develop his/her own research even further with the aid of this multi-dimensional network.
