

Special Issue

Innovative Dairy Products

Message from the Guest Editor

Milk and dairy products are essential part of human diet. In addition to the essential nutrients that milk is rich in, such as proteins, fats and minerals, the consumers are looking for the products with added-value and an outstanding sensory features. In addition to changing consumer trends, the technical and technological progress and changes in legal regulations are the key factors driving the development of innovations in the dairy industry. Intensive research relates to the use of innovative methods of dairy products preservation and innovative packaging systems .

The aim of this Special Issue is to bring together the latest advances in development of innovative dairy products incorporating all the aforementioned aspects. I am kindly invite you to present the original papers as well as the reviews.

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

As the world of science becomes ever more specialized, researchers may lose themselves in the deep forest of the ever increasing number of subfields being created. This open access journal Applied Sciences has been started to link these subfields, so researchers can cut through the forest and see the surrounding, or quite distant fields and subfields to help develop his/her own research even further with the aid of this multi-dimensional network.
