

Special Issue

Recent Applications of Information Visualization and Graphics

Message from the Guest Editor

We invite researchers, practitioners, and experts to contribute their original research, case studies, and reviews that demonstrate cutting-edge approaches and practical applications. Topics of interest include interactive visualizations, visual data exploration and analysis, spatial and temporal data representation, uncertainty visualization, collaborative visualization, and immersive environments. By bringing together a collection of high-quality articles, this Special Issue aims to provide valuable insights and knowledge to researchers, professionals, and students interested in the practical applications and advancements in information visualization and graphics. It will serve as a platform to exchange ideas, share experiences, and inspire interdisciplinary collaboration. Join us in exploring the diverse range of applications where information visualization and graphics techniques have been employed, pushing the boundaries of how we understand and interact with complex data and information.

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

As the world of science becomes ever more specialized, researchers may lose themselves in the deep forest of the ever increasing number of subfields being created. This open access journal Applied Sciences has been started to link these subfields, so researchers can cut through the forest and see the surrounding, or quite distant fields and subfields to help develop his/her own research even further with the aid of this multi-dimensional network.
