Message from the Guest Editor

Applied Sciences has reached a remarkable milestone this year by publishing its 10th volume of the journal, and to celebrate this special occasion, we have launched a special issue devoted to Chemistry entitled “The 10th Anniversary of Applied Sciences—Invited Papers in the Chemistry Section”. This Special Issue will consist of comprehensive review and original research articles featuring important and recent developments or advancements in all areas of chemistry. Authors who are well-known experts in their fields of study are invited to submit their contributions for this Special Issue up to the end of November 2020. The submitted papers can cover either experimental or theoretical aspects, or both, of all branches of chemistry and its subdisciplines. We invite you to contribute a comprehensive review article or an original research paper for peer-review and possible publication in this Special Issue to commemorate the publication this year of the 10th volume of Applied Sciences.

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

As the world of science becomes ever more specialized, researchers may lose themselves in the deep forest of the ever increasing number of subfields being created. This open access journal Applied Sciences has been started to link these subfields, so researchers can cut through the forest and see the surrounding, or quite distant fields and subfields to help develop his/her own research even further with the aid of this multi-dimensional network.
