Special Issue

Reliability of Materials and the Systems: Volume II

Message from the Guest Editors

Reliability is now receiving significant attention from industries such as electronics, automotive, heavy-chemical industries, and power plants. The international competitiveness of the industries in a globalized economy is closely tied to the high reliability of materials and systems. To this end, this Special Issue aims to showcase the latest reliability theory and applications, prognostics and health management (PHM) research trends, advanced material processing technologies, reliability answers and other related topics. Warm Regards,

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

As the world of science becomes ever more specialized, researchers may lose themselves in the deep forest of the ever increasing number of subfields being created. This open access journal Applied Sciences has been started to link these subfields, so researchers can cut through the forest and see the surrounding, or quite distant fields and subfields to help develop his/her own research even further with the aid of this multidimensional network.
