

Special Issue

Feature Papers in Aquaculture 2026

Message from the Guest Editor

This Special Issue entitled "Feature Papers in Aquaculture 2026" is being established to continue supporting the growth and dissemination of high-quality research in the field of aquaculture science. Building on the success of the previous volume, this new edition aims to further advance the open-access mission of Aquaculture Journal (ISSN 2673-9496, <https://www.mdpi.com/journal/aquacj>). The scope of this Special Issue covers all aspects of aquaculture-related aquatic science, including aquatic organisms, aquatic environments, aquatic-related industries, and techniques/technologies, as well as legislation/policy applied in aquatic resources. We look forward to your contributions to this continued effort in promoting cutting-edge aquaculture research.
