Special Issue

Sustainable Built Environments and Human Wellbeing, 2nd Edition

Message from the Guest Editors

This Special Issue invites high-quality submissions exploring the intersection of sustainable built environments and human wellbeing. In an era defined by climate urgency and demographic shifts, we seek innovative research and practical insights into eco-friendly, resource-efficient, and inclusive built environments.

- Topics of interest include, but are not limited to, the following:Sustainable built environments and infrastructure;
- Sustainable and regenerative design;
- Human health, wellbeing, and quality of life;
- Urban heat island mitigation strategies;
- Climate change adaptation and resilience;
- Energy-efficient design and low-carbon solutions;
- Carbon neutrality and net-zero emissions in architecture;
- Green infrastructure (e.g., green roofs, walls);
- Indoor environmental quality and occupant comfort;
- Mixed-use, walkable, and age-friendly neighbourhoods;
- Active ageing and ageing-in-place solutions.

We welcome original research, case studies, and reviews that advance our understanding of how sustainable built environments can foster healthier, more equitable, and resilient communities.

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

The journal Architecture is an outstanding platform for new ideas and for reporting the outcomes of your research. The subjects sought are wide ranging and include design strategies, form, and technology. The need to be innovative in a rapidly changing profession and building environment make this journal the ideal place to publish. We are open to creativity and out-of-the-box thinking.
