

Special Issue

Arts and Refugees: Multidisciplinary Perspectives

Message from the Guest Editor

The issue examines the relevance of artistic practices in current debates about the integration of de facto refugees in Europe and also in the actual integration of refugee artists in the social fabric and in the artistic scene. Papers looking at the role of arts (music, theater, literature, etc.) in the solidarity movements in favour of refugees in European cities are welcome. Papers examining the trajectory of refugee artists and their strategies in order to claim a position in their new society and their artistic scenes are also searched for. The papers can come from different disciplines and different theoretical perspectives (social movement theories, social mobilisation theories and cultural participation theories), preferably with a comparative dimension.

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

Arts welcomes scholarly contributions that address fundamental issues in the arts, broadly conceived, from any meaningful perspective—theoretical, historical, interdisciplinary, and global. Submissions are expeditiously and rigorously reviewed by peers, in order to insure the highest scholarly standards. Because Arts is an online journal, articles reach their desired audiences more quickly and reliably than its print media peers. The future is digital, and Arts combines the stringent scholarly standards of traditional journals with the easy accessibility afforded by digitalization.
