

Special Issue

In Memoriam, Solomon Marcus

Message from the Guest Editors

In Memoriam Solomon Marcus (1925--2016) Solomon Marcus (https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Solomon\_Marcus) was a Romanian mathematician, member of the Romanian Academy, and professor at the University of Bucharest. He was a polymath with research in mathematics (mathematical analysis, measure theory, topology, mathematical and computational linguistics), theoretical computer science, poetics, linguistics, semiotics, philosophy, and history of science and education. This Special Issue commemorates Marcus's fifth death anniversary with a selection of articles in mathematics and theoretical computer science written by authors who work in Marcus's research fields, some of whom have been influenced by his results and/or have collaborated with him. Marcus's (currently last) mathematical paper was published in Axioms, <https://www.mdpi.com/2075-1680/7/1/15>.

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

Axioms is dedicated to the foundations (structure and axiomatic basis, in particular) of mathematical theories, not only from a crisp or strictly classical sense, but also from a fuzzy and generalized sense. This includes the more innovative current scientific trends, devoted to discover and solve new challenging problems. The prime goal of Axioms is to publish first-class, original research articles under an open access policy with minimal fees for the authors. We would be pleased to welcome you as one of our authors.

Author Benefits

Open Access

– free for readers, with article processing charges (APC) paid by authors or their institutions.

High visibility:

indexed within SCIE (Web of Science), dblp, and other databases.

Journal Rank:

JCR - Q2 (Mathematics, Applied) Rapid Publication: manuscripts are peer-reviewed and a first decision is provided to authors approximately 21.7 days after submission; acceptance to publication is undertaken in 2.8 days (median values for papers published in this journal in the second half of 2025).
