Clinical Psychology Research and Public Health

Message from the Guest Editors

Researchers and academics are invited to contribute with studies in the field of clinical psychology that have an impact on public health (mental health, behavior problems, adverse childhood experiences, substance use, stress and burnout, eating or sleeping disorders, addictions, etc.). We encourage studies that focus on psychological problems of vulnerable individuals or groups that can become a public health issue (e.g., chronic diseases). For more details, please see: Clinical Psychology Research and Public Health

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

With warm greetings, it is a pleasure to invite you to contribute a research article or comprehensive review for consideration and publication in Behavioral Sciences. Behavioral Sciences is an international, scientific, open access journal providing an advanced forum for discussions and research regarding the intersection between psychiatry, neuroscience, psychology, cognitive and behavioral sciences, and behavioral biology. More information are available at: https://www.mdpi.com/journal/behavsci. We would be pleased to welcome you as one of our authors and have the opportunity to consider your work for publication.
