

Special Issue

Foundational Approaches to Learning Behaviors

Message from the Guest Editors

The guest editors of this Special Issue welcome submissions on a broad set of topics related to approaches to learning in children and youth. Specifically, we encourage submissions that highlight: (1) research that examines the associations between approaches to learning and child or youth outcomes, broadly defined; (2) the measurement of approaches to learning in multiple contexts; and/or (3) promising instructional and/or intervention approaches for strengthening approaches to learning. We welcome articles that use quantitative, qualitative, or mixed-methods approaches. Likewise, we welcome submissions that represent a variety of theoretical perspectives.
