Biomechanics Studies in Ophthalmology

Message from the Guest Editor

Biomechanics can provide essential insights into the normal sensorimotor function of the eye and visual system, as well as the pathophysiology and treatment of important ocular diseases. This Special Issue welcomes submissions of reports on the mechanical properties and behavior of animal and human ocular tissues, computational models of organ-level behavior in the sensorimotor visual system in animals and humans, and mechanically based models providing insight into ocular diseases and their possible treatments.

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

You are invited to contribute a research article or a comprehensive review for consideration and publication in Bioengineering (ISSN 2306-5354). Bioengineering is published in open access format – research articles, reviews and other contents are released on the Internet immediately after acceptance. The scientific community and the general public have unlimited and free access to the content as soon as it is published. Bioengineering provides an advanced forum for the science and technology of bioengineering. We would be pleased to welcome you as one of our authors.

Editor-in-Chief

Author Benefits

High Visibility:

indexed within Scopus, SCIE (Web of Science), PubMed, PMC, CAPIus / SciFinder, Inspec, and other databases.

Journal Rank:

JCR - Q2 (Engineering, Biomedical) Rapid Publication: manuscripts are peer-reviewed and a first decision is provided to authors approximately 19.2 days after submission; acceptance to publication is undertaken in 3.3 days (median values for papers published in this journal in the first half of 2025).

Recognition of Reviewers:

reviewers who provide timely, thorough peer-review reports receive vouchers entitling them to a discount on the APC of their next publication in any MDPI journal, in appreciation of the work done.
