Engineered Analysis of Tissue Mechanics and Blood Flow for Cardiovascular Host-Device Interaction

Message from the Guest Editor

The dynamic balance of forces in the cardiovascular system may be dramatically altered by medical devices, manifesting as clinical complications that reflect the challenges of hemocompatibility. In this Special Issue, experimental and computational strategies for understanding the bidirectional interplay between the host circulation and implanted devices will be explored, utilizing the tools of engineering to connect the biomechanics to the biology.

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

You are invited to contribute a research article or a comprehensive review for consideration and publication in Bioengineering (ISSN 2306-5354). Bioengineering is published in open access format – research articles, reviews and other contents are released on the Internet immediately after acceptance. The scientific community and the general public have unlimited and free access to the content as soon as it is published. Bioengineering provides an advanced forum for the science and technology of bioengineering. We would be pleased to welcome you as one of our authors.

Author Benefits

High Visibility:

indexed within Scopus, SCIE (Web of Science), PubMed, PMC, CAPIus / SciFinder, Inspec, and other databases.

Journal Rank:

JCR - Q2 (Engineering, Biomedical)

Rapid Publication:

manuscripts are peer-reviewed and a first decision is provided to authors approximately 19.2 days after submission; acceptance to publication is undertaken in 3.3 days (median values for papers published in this journal in the first half of 2025).
