Early Career Scientists' (ECS) Contributions to Nanotechnology Applications in Bioengineering

Message from the Guest Editors

This Special Issue aims to examine the scientific contribution of early career researchers exploring all interdisciplinary aspects of nanotechnology applications in bioengineering. Each manuscript will be peer-reviewed with at least two referees in accordance with the peer review policy of the journal. Manuscripts are reviewed as quickly as possible with an editorial decision usually reached within three to four weeks following submission. As this Special Issue is dedicated to researchers at the beginning of their academic career, it aims to make the publication process as transparent as possible and to give additional guidance on how to address reviewers' comments. Nonetheless, the research will be assessed as rigorously as any other paper submitted to Bioengineering.

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

You are invited to contribute a research article or a comprehensive review for consideration and publication in Bioengineering (ISSN 2306-5354). Bioengineering is published in open access format – research articles, reviews and other contents are released on the Internet immediately after acceptance. The scientific community and the general public have unlimited and free access to the content as soon as it is published. Bioengineering provides an advanced forum for the science and technology of bioengineering. We would be pleased to welcome you as one of our authors.

Author Benefits

High Visibility:

indexed within Scopus, SCIE (Web of Science), PubMed, PMC, CAPIus / SciFinder, Inspec, and other databases.

Journal Rank:

JCR - Q2 (Engineering, Biomedical)

Rapid Publication:

manuscripts are peer-reviewed and a first decision is provided to authors approximately 16.4 days after submission; acceptance to publication is undertaken in 3.5 days (median values for papers published in this journal in the second half of 2024).
