Feature Papers in Marine and Freshwater Biology

Message from the Guest Editor

In this Special Issue, 'Feature Papers in Marine and Freshwater Biology', we aim to publish original and review articles focusing on aquatic ecology, physiology, and the evolutionary processes that drive biodiversity across marine and freshwater systems. Topics include, but are not limited to, the following:

- The biology of aquatic life ranging from plankton to marine mammals, including their behavior, adaptations, and interactions.
- The diversity of aquatic ecosystems such as coral reefs, deep-sea vents, estuaries, polar seas, lakes, rivers, and wetlands.
- The physical, chemical, and ecological processes that sustain these systems.

We look forward to receiving your submissions.

About the Journal

Message from the Editorial Board

A major strength of biological science is the diversity of approaches that biological scientists apply to their research problems. Biology reflects this diversity and brings together studies employing the varied experimental and theoretical approaches that are fueling biological discovery. Biology, the journal, is a fully peer-reviewed publication with a rapid and economical route to open access publication and is listed on PubMed. All articles are peer-reviewed and the editorial focus is on determining that the work is scientifically sound rather than trying to predict its future impact.

Author Benefits

High Visibility:

indexed within Scopus, SCIE (Web of Science), PubMed, PMC, PubAg, CAPlus / SciFinder, and other databases.

Journal Rank:

JCR - Q1 (Biology) / CiteScore - Q1 (General Agricultural and Biological Sciences)

Rapid Publication:

manuscripts are peer-reviewed and a first decision is provided to authors approximately 17.4 days after submission; acceptance to publication is undertaken in 2.5 days (median values for papers published in this journal in the first half of 2025).
