Feature Reviews in Biomedical Materials

Message from the Guest Editor

This section "Biomedical Materials" aims to rapidly publish contributions on studies of the preparation, performance, and evaluation of biomaterials; the chemical, physical, toxicological, and mechanical behavior of materials in physiological environments; and the response of blood and tissues to biomaterials, all relevant biomaterial topics including the science and technology of alloys, polymers, ceramics, and reprocessed animal and human tissues in surgery, dentistry, artificial organs, and other medical devices. Submissions to this Special Issue "Feature Reviews in Biomedical Materials" need to include a cover letter stating the novelty of the review article in comparison to related reviews published in the literature.
