Gynecological Cancers: Progress and Challenges

Message from the Guest Editor

This Special Issue aims to bring together original research and comprehensive reviews that explore innovative therapeutic targets, novel drug candidates, and translational strategies for gynecological cancers. We particularly encourage submissions addressing molecular mechanisms, targeted therapy, immunotherapy, resistance pathways, biomarkers, and the integration of natural products or bioactive compounds in cancer therapy. By highlighting both progress and challenges, this Special Issue seeks to provide a platform for advancing scientific understanding and fostering clinical translation in the fight against gynecological cancers.

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

Biomedicines (ISSN 2227-9059) is an open access journal devoted to all aspects of research on human health and disease, the discovery and characterization of new therapeutic targets, therapeutic strategies, and research of naturally driven biomedicines, pharmaceuticals, and biopharmaceutical products. Topics include pathogenesis mechanisms of diseases, translational medical research, biomaterial in biomedical research, natural bioactive molecules, biologics, vaccines, gene therapies, cell-based therapies, targeted specific antibodies, recombinant therapeutic proteins, nanobiotechnology driven products, targeted therapy, bioimaging, biosensors, biomarkers, and biosimilars. The journal is open for publication of studies conducted at the basic science and preclinical research levels. We invite you to consider submitting your work to Biomedicines, be it original research, review articles, or developing Special Issues of current key topics.

Author Benefits

High Visibility:

indexed within Scopus, SCIE (Web of Science), PubMed, PMC, CAPus / SciFinder, and other databases.

Journal Rank:

JCR - Q1 (Pharmacology and Pharmacy) / CiteScore - Q1 (Medicine (miscellaneous))

Rapid Publication:

manuscripts are peer-reviewed and a first decision is provided to authors approximately 17 days after submission; acceptance to publication is undertaken in 2.9 days (median values for papers published in this journal in the first half of 2025).
