Advances in Biogenic and Biomimetic Materials: From Bionanomedicine to Environmental Applications and Beyond

Message from the Guest Editors

Nature has inspired people for a long time. Thus, scientists have learned from nature and developed new models and strategies to overcome many concerns related to environmental pollution, health problems, energy resources, etc. Nowadays, biomimetics and bioinspiration are in the spotlight for scientists. Moreover, living systems have been used as a source of inspiration or as a raw matter to develop valuable materials that can be used in various applications from bionanomedicine to the environment and beyond. This Special Issue kindly invites authors to contribute with original research articles and review papers related to biomimetics and bioinspiration applied in the biomedical field and environmental applications.

Author Benefits

High Visibility:

indexed within Scopus, SCIE (Web of Science), PubMed, PMC, Ei Compendex, CAPlus / SciFinder, and other databases.

Journal Rank:

JCR - Q1 (Engineering, Multidisciplinary) / CiteScore - Q2
(Biomedical Engineering)

Rapid Publication:

manuscripts are peer-reviewed and a first decision is provided to authors approximately 17.1 days after submission; acceptance to publication is undertaken in 2.8
days (median values for papers published in this journal in the first half of 2025).
