

Special Issue

Vascular Disease and Thrombosis

Message from the Guest Editor

We are seeking submissions for a Special Issue of Biomolecules on vascular disease and thrombosis. Vascular disease and thrombosis cause morbidity and mortality worldwide. In this area, on the venous side, the most common clinical manifestation is a venous thromboembolism (VTE) (this includes superficial and deep vein thrombosis, pulmonary embolism, and post-thrombotic syndrome). On the arterial side, the most common clinical manifestations are ischemic heart disease (including acute myocardial infarction), ischemic stroke, acute limb ischemia, intestinal infarction, etc. Research focused on biomolecular events is crucial to the prevention and treatment of thrombovascular diseases. For this Special Issue, both research and review articles (general and systematic) are welcome.

About the Journal

Message from the Editorial Board

Biomolecules is a multidisciplinary open-access journal that reports on all aspects of research related to biogenic substances, from small molecules to complex polymers. We invite manuscripts of high scientific quality that pertain to the diverse aspects relevant to organic molecules, irrespective of the biological question or methodology. We aim for a competent, fair peer review and rapid publication. Please look at some of the exciting work that has been published in Biomolecules so far. We would be delighted to welcome you as one of our authors.
