Biomarkers in Neurodegenerative Diseases: Shaping the Future of Diagnosis and Treatment

Message from the Guest Editors

We invite researchers and experts to contribute articles focused on the transformative role of biomarkers in neurodegenerative disorders. As we stand at the threshold of new breakthroughs in understanding diseases like Alzheimer's, Parkinson's, and other neurodegenerative conditions, biomarkers are becoming essential for shaping the future of diagnosis, treatment, and patient care. We welcome submissions that explore the latest innovations, cutting-edge research, and the critical impact that biomarkers have on early detection, disease progression, and personalized therapeutic approaches. Join us in advancing the science that will revolutionize the management and treatment of neurodegenerative diseases.

About the Journal

Message from the Editorial Board

Biomolecules is a multidisciplinary open-access journal that reports on all aspects of research related to biogenic substances, from small molecules to complex polymers. We invite manuscripts of high scientific quality that pertain to the diverse aspects relevant to organic molecules, irrespective of the biological question or methodology. We aim for a competent, fair peer review and rapid publication. Please look at some of the exciting work that has been published in Biomolecules so far. We would be delighted to welcome you as one of our authors.
