

Special Issue

Medical Imaging and Biosensing

Message from the Guest Editors

The Special Issue will cover a wide range of topics related to the state of the art of medical imaging and biosensing techniques, focusing on the development of new imaging processing methods (e.g., AI-based), portable sensors, fusion of multimodal information, and personalized solutions for precision medicine. These topics include but are not limited to:

- Artificial intelligence and machine learning approaches for precision medicine;
- Imaging techniques for disease detection and diagnosis;
- Image-guided interventions for disease treatment;
- Imaging-derived biomarkers related to disease progression, response to therapy, and patient outcomes;
- Point-of-care testing;
- Wearable biosensors.

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

Biosensors is a leading journal, devoted to fast publication of the latest achievements, technological developments and scientific research in the exciting multidisciplinary area of biosensors. Both experimental and theoretical papers are published, including all aspects of biosensor design, technology, proof of concept and application. Special issues are devoted to specific technologies and applications, and a selection of the most outstanding papers each year is recognized. Pushing the boundaries of the discipline, we invite original papers, as well as timely reviews on cutting edge fields within the subject area.

Author Benefits

High Visibility:

indexed within Scopus, SCIE (Web of Science), PubMed, MEDLINE, PMC, Ei Compendex, Embase, CAPlus / SciFinder, Inspec, and other databases.

Journal Rank:

JCR - Q1 (Instruments and Instrumentation) / CiteScore - Q1 (Instrumentation)

Rapid Publication:

manuscripts are peer-reviewed and a first decision is provided to authors approximately 20.6 days after submission; acceptance to publication is undertaken in 3.5 days (median values for papers published in this journal in the second half of 2025).
