Electrochemical (Bio)sensors for Environmental and Food Analyses II

Message from the Guest Editors

The aim of this Special Issue of Biosensors, "Electrochemical (Bio)sensors for Environmental and Food Analyses II" is to report recent developments and advances in sensors and biosensors to meet the demands of environmental and food analysis. Its objective is to collect a series of articles which show the developments and applications of both electrochemical sensors and biosensors in this area. It is envisaged that this will cover a wide range of areas; including electrochemical sensors employing both classical and advanced electrochemical techniques, electrochemical biosensors based on enzymes, antibodies, DNA, aptamers, molecularly imprinted polymers and the application of nanotechnology in the forms of reviews, communications, and academic articles.
