Nanomaterials and Nanostructure Devices for Biosensing

Message from the Guest Editors

Nanomaterials and nanostructure-based devices are highly promising in the development of next-generation biosensors with superior performance. In view of this rapidly growing field, it is our pleasure to invite you to contribute to this Special Issue focused on the recent advances, future perspectives, and challenges for the development of biosensors using nanomaterials and nanostructures. A broad range of applications are of interest to this Special Issue, including point-of-care, flexible, implantable, and wearable devices, etc.

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

Biosensors is a leading journal, devoted to fast publication of the latest achievements, technological developments and scientific research in the exciting multidisciplinary area of biosensors. Both experimental and theoretical papers are published, including all aspects of biosensor design, technology, proof of concept and application. Special issues are devoted to specific technologies and applications, and a selection of the most outstanding papers each year is recognized. Pushing the boundaries of the discipline, we invite original papers, as well as timely reviews on cutting edge fields within the subject area.

Author Benefits

High Visibility:

indexed within Scopus, SCIE (Web of Science), PubMed, MEDLINE, PMC, Ei Compendex, Embase, CAPlus / SciFinder, Inspec, and other databases.

Journal Rank:

JCR - Q1 (Instruments and Instrumentation) / CiteScore - Q1 (Instrumentation)

Rapid Publication:

manuscripts are peer-reviewed and a first decision is provided to authors approximately 21.8 days after submission; acceptance to publication is undertaken in 2.8 days (median values for papers published in this journal in the first half of 2025).
