Special Issue

Alcohol Dependency and Its Impact on the Brain and Behavior

Message from the Guest Editor

Alcohol Dependence is a Special Issue of Brain Sciences (ISSN 2076-3425) devoted to publishing original research, reviews, commentaries, and policy analyses in the area of alcohol dependence. The Special Issue presents new treatment methods for alcohol addicts. Alcoholism is one the most pervasive international problems, severely affecting the physical and mental health of addicted individuals, as well as their families, especially the vulnerable children who are at the risk of developing physical and mental health problems. In contrast to the magnitude of the problem, research and practice in the field to address these issues requires further research. Scope and Keywords: The scope of the journal includes, but is not limited to, alcohol abuse, alcohol anxiety, alcohol dependence, alcohol and drugs, alcohol health risks, alcohol and pregnancy, alcoholism and depression, alcoholism and genetics, alcoholism disease, alcoholism statistics, alcoholism treatment, chronic alcohol abuse, chronic alcoholism, the effects of alcoholism, the negative effects of alcohol, signs of alcoholism, and substance abuse.
