Frontiers in Biomarkers of Brain Injury

Message from the Guest Editor

A biomarker of brain injury is any measurable indicator of central nervous system injury. Biomarkers in medicine are currently used for diagnosis, evaluation of disease severity, and prognosis. This Special Issue aims to collect papers about a broad range of pathological conditions, from acute brain injuries (e.g., traumatic brain injuries, hypoxic-ischemic brain injury, subarachnoid hemorrhage, ischemic stroke) to demyelinating diseases (e.g., multiple sclerosis) and neurodegenerative disease (e.g., Alzheimer's disease, frontotemporal dementia, Parkinson's disease). We are especially interested in blood and cerebrospinal fluid biomarkers, but neurophysiological and neuroimaging studies will also be considered if they provide clear evidence of a marker of brain injury. Both studies on animal models and humans will be evaluated. Research and review papers will be welcomed.

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

You are invited to contribute a research article or a comprehensive review for consideration and publication in Brain Sciences (ISSN 2076-3425). Brain Sciences is an open access, peer-reviewed scientific journal that publishes original articles, critical reviews, research notes, and short communications on neuroscience. The scientific community and the general public can access the content free of charge as soon as it is published.

Author Benefits

High Visibility:

indexed within Scopus, SCIE (Web of Science), PubMed, PMC, Embase, PSYINDEX, PsycInfo, CAPlus / SciFinder, and other databases.

Rapid Publication:

manuscripts are peer-reviewed and a first decision is provided to authors approximately 16.2 days after submission; acceptance to publication is undertaken in 1.9 days (median values for papers published in this journal in the first half of 2025).

Recognition of Reviewers:

reviewers who provide timely, thorough peer-review reports receive vouchers entitling them to a discount on the APC of their next publication in any MDPI journal, in appreciation of the work done.
