

Special Issue

Network Neuroscience: Brain Networks in the Field of Affective, Cognitive and Personality Neuroscience

Message from the Guest Editors

The current Special Issue will cover state-of-the-art research in network neuroscience focused on computational approaches, as well as on their applications in the fields of affective, cognitive, and personality neuroscience, using both neurophysiological (EEG, MEG, etc.) and neuroimaging (fMRI, DWI, etc.) modalities, with the main aim to expand our current knowledge and produce new theoretical frameworks.

Topics may include, but are not limited to, the following:

- Computational approaches in estimating the functional and/or structural connectivity
- Graph theoretical models in network neuroscience
- Multi-scale and multi-graph models of the human brain
- Brain Networks in the field of the affective / cognitive / personality neuroscience
- Brain networks in brain–computer interface-based applications

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

You are invited to contribute a research article or a comprehensive review for consideration and publication in Brain Sciences (ISSN 2076-3425). Brain Sciences is an open access, peer-reviewed scientific journal that publishes original articles, critical reviews, research notes, and short communications on neuroscience. The scientific community and the general public can access the content free of charge as soon as it is published.

Editor-in-Chief

Prof. Dr. Stephen D. Meriney

Department of Neuroscience, University of Pittsburgh, Pittsburgh, PA 15260, USA

Author Benefits

High Visibility:

indexed within Scopus, SCIE (Web of Science), PubMed, PMC, Embase, PSYINDEX, PsycInfo, CAPlus / SciFinder, and other databases.

Rapid Publication:

manuscripts are peer-reviewed and a first decision is provided to authors approximately 17.6 days after submission; acceptance to publication is undertaken in 2.5 days (median values for papers published in this journal in the second half of 2025).

Recognition of Reviewers:

reviewers who provide timely, thorough peer-review reports receive vouchers entitling them to a discount on the APC of their next publication in any MDPI journal, in appreciation of the work done.
