The COVID-19 pandemic has caused huge uncertainties in demand and supply worldwide, which led to unprecedented supply chain disruptions. The purpose of this special issue is to provide a collection of high-quality research papers covering a wide range of topics within Global Supply Chains and COVID-19 for developed and developing countries. We welcome original empirical and theoretical contributions to all aspects of the related topic.

It is our pleasure to inaugurate the new open access journal, Businesses (ISSN 2673-7116). Businesses is an international, peer-reviewed, open access journal (free for readers), which publishes original empirical, theoretical and management practice articles on all areas of business and other disciplines such as economics, psychology, sociology, anthropology and history. The aim is to provide a platform for research and findings of business studies and related topics, including entrepreneurship research, finance and accounting, economy and business, strategic management, business and industrial marketing, business and environment, business history, business law, etc. Some examples from my own research on these kinds of topics are papers on an industry management practices or entrepreneurial behaviour.
