Message from the Guest Editor

We are excited to present the Special Issue entitled "Novel Advances in Surgery for Prostate Cancer", featuring cutting-edge insights into the surgical management of prostate cancer. This collection highlights innovative technologies and techniques aimed at refining diagnosis, treatment, and patient outcomes. Leading experts contribute diverse articles exploring state-of-the-art image-guided technologies, robot-assisted technologies, adoption of novel robotic platforms, and other minimally invasive approaches. Addressing a global health challenge, these advancements underscore the importance of precision and patient-centric strategies. We extend our gratitude to contributors for enriching this Special Issue, anticipating its role as a valuable resource for clinicians, surgeons, and researchers, fostering continued progress in prostate cancer surgery.
