Surgical Management of Non-Small Cell Lung Cancer

Message from the Guest Editor

It is a great honor for me to bring this Special Issue to your attention. With this publication, we aim to summarize the current practice and topics of research in the field of surgical treatment of non-small cell lung cancer. In this Special Issue, original articles and reviews are welcome on the following topics:

- Neoadjuvant, adjuvant, or perioperative treatment of NSCLC;
- Preoperative investigation of the surgical treatment of NSCLC;
- Segmentectomy for NSCLC;
- Minimally invasive (VATS and robotic) surgery for NSCLC;
- Role of STAS in surgery for NSCLC;
- Innovative surgeries for NSCLC;
- Main airway surgery for NSCLC.

I look forward to receiving your contributions.

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

Cancers (ISSN 2072-6694) is an international, online journal addressing both clinical and basic science issues related to cancer research. The journal will continue its open access format, which will certainly evolve to ensure that the journal takes full advantage of the rapidly changing world of information and knowledge dissemination. It publishes high-quality clinical, translational, and basic science research on cancer prevention, initiation, progression, and treatment, as well as other related topics, particularly to capture the most seminal studies in the rapidly growing area of immunology, immunotherapy, and tumor microenvironment.
