Circular RNAs: New Insights into the Molecular Biology of Cancer

Message from the Guest Editor

This Special Issue will focus on the role of circRNAs in cancer, covering molecular, cellular and (pre)clinical aspects, aiming to enlighten the implication of circRNAs in human malignancies. The authors are encouraged to submit their original research studies concerning this topic. Reviews that highlight new findings in the above areas are also welcome. I hope that this Special Issue regarding circRNAs in cancer will interest the readers of Cancers.

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

Cancers is an international online journal addressing both clinical and basic science issues related to cancer research. The journal is publishing in Open Access format, which will certainly evolve to ensure that the journal takes full advantage of the rapidly changing world of information and knowledge dissemination. It publishes high-quality clinical, translational, and basic science research on cancer prevention, initiation, progression, and treatment, as well as other related topics, particularly to capture the most seminal studies in the rapidly growing area of immunology, immunotherapy, and tumor microenvironment.
