IECC2022: Tumor Microenvironment Heterogeneity in Cancer Progression: Challenge or Opportunity

Message from the Guest Editors

The focus of this Special Issue is the translation of basic science understanding the tumor microenvironment and its dysregulation in cancer to its therapeutic exploitation:

Tumor Heterogeneity and Chemoresistance
Tumor Heterogeneity and Immune Evasion
Clonal Evolution and Tumor Heterogeneity
Technological Platforms for Tumor and TME
Heterogeneity Studies
Novel Computational Approaches in Tumor Analyses
Proteomics and Metabolomics to Dissect Tumor Tissue Heterogeneity
Targeting Tumor Microenvironment as Therapeutical Strategy to Hit Cancer: News from the Lab
Pre-Clinical Models to Study Cancer Heterogeneity:
Emerging Technologies
Immunotherapy: Strategies to Unleash the Anti-Tumor Response

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

Cancers is an international online journal addressing both clinical and basic science issues related to cancer research. The journal is publishing in Open Access format, which will certainly evolve to ensure that the journal takes full advantage of the rapidly changing world of information and knowledge dissemination. It publishes high-quality clinical, translational, and basic science research on cancer prevention, initiation, progression, and treatment, as well as other related topics, particularly to capture the most seminal studies in the rapidly growing area of immunology, immunotherapy, and tumor microenvironment.
