Message from the Guest Editor

Dear Colleagues,

Skin plays an important role in protecting and enhancing health. Because it interfaces with the environment, it has a prominent immunity role in protecting the body against pathogens. Although substantial research has been carried out to clarify the pathophysiology of skin diseases, much remains to be discovered regarding the cellular mechanisms of cutaneous disorders. In this context, the editors of Cells have set up an issue dedicated to cellular mechanisms of skin diseases. For this Special Issue, we invite research articles on various aspects of skin pathophysiology and cellular mechanisms of its diseases.

Message from the Editorial Board

Cells has become a solid international scientific journal that is now indexed on SCIE and in other databases. We have successfully introduced a special issues format so that these issues serve as mini-forums in specific areas of cell science. Cells encourages researchers to suggest new special issues, serve as special issues editors, and volunteer to be reviewers. Our main focus will remain on cell anatomy and physiology, the structure and function of organelles, cell adhesion and motility, and the regulation of intracellular signaling, growth, differentiation, and aging. We are open to both original research papers and reviews.

Author Benefits

Open Access: free for readers, with article processing charges \(APC\) paid by authors or their institutions.

High Visibility: indexed within Scopus, SCIE \(Web of Science\), PubMed, MEDLINE, PMC, CAPus / SciFinder, and other databases.

Journal Rank: JCR - Q2 (Cell Biology) / CiteScore - Q1 (General Biochemistry, Genetics and Molecular Biology)
