Molecular Mechanisms and Treatment Strategies in Metabolic Syndromes and Neurological Disorders

Message from the Guest Editors

The aim of this Special Issue is to showcase research articles and reviews that illuminate the molecular and cellular mechanisms linking neurological disorders and metabolic syndromes and to highlight emerging treatment strategies grounded in these insights. By bringing together diverse perspectives, we hope to provide a reference for experts in the field, as well as for researchers who are first entering this rapidly expanding and interdisciplinary area of biomedical science.

About the Journal

Message from the Editorial Board

Cells has become a solid international scientific journal that is now indexed on SCIE and in other databases. We have successfully introduced a special issues format so that these issues serve as mini-forums in specific areas of cell science. Cells encourages researchers to suggest new special issues, serve as special issues editors, and volunteer to be reviewers. Our main focus will remain on cell anatomy and physiology, the structure and function of organelles, cell adhesion and motility, and the regulation of intracellular signaling, growth, differentiation, and aging. We are open to both original research papers and reviews.

Author Benefits

High Visibility:

indexed within Scopus, SCIE (Web of Science), PubMed, MEDLINE, PMC, CAPlus / SciFinder, and other databases.

Journal Rank:

JCR - Q2 (Cell Biology) / CiteScore - Q1 (General Biochemistry, Genetics and Molecular Biology)

Rapid Publication:

manuscripts are peer-reviewed and a first decision is provided to authors approximately 15.5 days after submission; acceptance to publication is undertaken in 2.8 days (median values for papers published in this journal in the second half of 2025).
