Recent Advances in Cancer Therapy

Message from the Guest Editor

The aim of this Special Issue is to cover recent advances in the field of cancer immunotherapy, targeted cancer therapy, and miRNA-based cancer therapy. We would like to put emphasis on the molecular mechanism that is associated with the pathogenesis of cancer and that can be targeted for therapeutic purposes. We invite contributions in the form of original research articles and reviews. We look forward to your contributions. Keywords

- Cancer
- Immunotherapy
- Targeted therapy
- MicroRNA
- Small molecule inhibitors
- Cell signaling
- Apoptosis

About the Journal

Message from the Editorial Board

Cells has become a solid international scientific journal that is now indexed on SCIE and in other databases. We have successfully introduced a special issues format so that these issues serve as mini-forums in specific areas of cell science. Cells encourages researchers to suggest new special issues, serve as special issues editors, and volunteer to be reviewers. Our main focus will remain on cell anatomy and physiology, the structure and function of organelles, cell adhesion and motility, and the regulation of intracellular signaling, growth, differentiation, and aging. We are open to both original research papers and reviews.

Author Benefits

High Visibility:

indexed within Scopus, SCIE (Web of Science), PubMed, MEDLINE, PMC, CAPus / SciFinder, and other databases.

Journal Rank:

JCR - Q2 (Cell Biology) / CiteScore - Q1 (General Biochemistry, Genetics and Molecular Biology)

Rapid Publication:

manuscripts are peer-reviewed and a first decision is provided to authors approximately 16 days after submission; acceptance to publication is undertaken in 2.7 days (median values for papers published in this journal in the first half of 2025).
