Advances in Cell Biology Proteomics

Message from the Guest Editors

In “Advances in Cell Biology Proteomics”, we would like to showcase exciting stories in cell biology where the use of current state-of-the-art mass spectrometry proteomics technologies have made a key contribution to answer your research question. We welcome submissions of research articles and review papers. Furthermore, since the liquid chromatography method in front of the mass spectrometer is equally important in the success of an LC-MS method, technical notes on liquid chromatography are also of interest.

About the Journal

Message from the Editorial Board

Cells has become a solid international scientific journal that is now indexed on SCIE and in other databases. We have successfully introduced a special issues format so that these issues serve as mini-forums in specific areas of cell science. Cells encourages researchers to suggest new special issues, serve as special issues editors, and volunteer to be reviewers. Our main focus will remain on cell anatomy and physiology, the structure and function of organelles, cell adhesion and motility, and the regulation of intracellular signaling, growth, differentiation, and aging. We are open to both original research papers and reviews.

Author Benefits

High Visibility:

indexed within Scopus, SCIE (Web of Science), PubMed, MEDLINE, PMC, CAPlus / SciFinder, and other databases.

Journal Rank:

JCR - Q2 (Cell Biology) / CiteScore - Q1 (General Biochemistry, Genetics and Molecular Biology)

Rapid Publication:

manuscripts are peer-reviewed and a first decision is provided to authors approximately 15.5 days after submission; acceptance to publication is undertaken in 2.8 days (median values for papers published in this journal in the second half of 2025).
