

Special Issue

The Production Processes and Applications of Geopolymers

Message from the Guest Editors

This Special Issue aims to attract original contributions on topics related to the production of geopolymers and their potential applications. Studies including innovative research and critical analyses related to various types of geopolymers, as well as their methods of production and applications, are welcome, including original articles, case studies, and reviews. Potential topics in this Special Issue include, but are not limited to:

- Additive manufacturing of geopolymers materials;
- Geopolymers as materials dedicated to the circular economy;
- The use of geopolymer materials as a sorbent;
- Manufacturing lunar and Martian shelters based on geopolymer composites;
- Applications in the underwater environment for geopolymer composites.

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

Ceramics (ISSN 2571-6131), an international, open access journal, provides an advanced forum for ceramics science and engineering. Research articles, reviews and other contents are released on the internet immediately after acceptance. The scientific community and the general public have unlimited and free access to the content as soon as it is published. We are committed to drive Ceramics to a position in which it is recognized for its high-quality, cutting-edge research and scientific influence, and strongly encourage and invite your participation and manuscripts. Your contribution should lead to the development of technical ceramics with better performances and to improve our quality of life.

Author Benefits

High Visibility:

indexed within Scopus, ESCI (Web of Science), and other databases.

Journal Rank:

JCR - Q2 (Materials Science, Ceramics) / CiteScore - Q2
(Materials Science (miscellaneous))

Rapid Publication:

manuscripts are peer-reviewed and a first decision is provided to authors approximately 19.6 days after submission; acceptance to publication is undertaken in 3.7 days (median values for papers published in this journal in the first half of 2025).
