Rapid Point-of-Care Testing Technology and Application (Second Edition)

Message from the Guest Editors

We would like to invite you to contribute to this Special Issue, "Rapid Point-of-Care Testing Technology and Application (Second Edition)". Since the first diagnosed case of COVID-19 in 2019, it continues to present a challenge to the medical and scientific world, necessitating ongoing efforts to understand the disease and specific approaches to it, from early diagnostics and adequate treatments to prophylaxis. Researchers play a significant role in developing solutions that facilitate diagnostic and prevention modalities at the POCT level; therefore, we seek contributions that can help us manage SARS-CoV-2 infection and progress to the next step: active control. About the Journal

Message from the Editorial Board

Chemosensors continues to grow as a forum for all manners of sensing that encompass chemistry. Chemosensors is published in open access format – all articles and content are released on the internet immediately following acceptance, thus allowing unlimited access to the content as soon as it is published. We would be happy to have you join our growing list of authors.

Editors-in-Chief

Author Benefits

High Visibility:

indexed within Scopus, SCIE (Web of Science), CAPus / SciFinder, Inspec, Engineering Village and other databases.

Journal Rank:

JCR - Q2 (Instruments and Instrumentation) / CiteScore -
Q1 (Physical and Theoretical Chemistry)

Rapid Publication:

manuscripts are peer-reviewed and a first decision is provided to authors approximately 20.5 days after submission; acceptance to publication is undertaken in 2.8 days (median values for papers published in this journal in the first half of 2025).
