Current Advances in Paediatric Sleep Medicine

Message from the Guest Editors

Children with suspected sleep disorders should be referred to a qualified paediatrician, as they perform an important gatekeeper function. We invite you to keep raising awareness of this issue so that the right course can be initiated at an appropriately early time. We welcome current reviews, studies and case descriptions from the fields of child and adolescent psychiatry, paediatric pneumology, otorhinolaryngology, orthodontics, neonatology, genetics, clinical pharmacology, epidemiology, health economics, the history of medicine and other specialist areas.

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

You are invited to contribute a research article or comprehensive review for consideration and publication in Children (ISSN 2227-9067). Children is an open access journal—research articles, reviews, and other content are published online immediately after acceptance. The scientific community and the general public have unlimited free access to the content as soon as it is published. The journal focuses on sharing clinical, epidemiological, and translational science relevant to children's health. We would be pleased to welcome you as one of our authors.
