Message from the Guest Editors

I am pleased to invite you to contribute to this Special Issue of Children, which investigates and explores the ethical dimensions of healthcare encounters experienced by children, adolescents, and their families in diverse contexts. The importance of ethical decision making in healthcare cannot be overstated; ethical considerations are fundamental to maintaining trust, professionalism, and the well-being of both patients and healthcare professionals. For this Special Issue, we invite articles that address the topic “ethical decision making in childhood healthcare”. It is essential for healthcare professionals to prioritize ethical considerations in their practice, as doing so not only benefits patients but also contributes to the overall improvement of the healthcare system. Qualitative or quantitative contributions from basic or applied research that will improve the knowledge on key topics within this field are welcomed.
