Recent Advances in Wind Energy

Message from the Guest Editor

The list of possible topics for the Special Issue is wide. Some examples include, but are not limited to, developments in the following:

- Wind turbine technology (aerodynamic and-or control system);
- Wind turbines control and monitoring (performance evaluation and-or condition monitoring) through data analysis and measurement techniques;
- Wind farm management and control;
- Grid integration of wind energy;
- Offshore wind energy and wind turbine wakes;
- Onshore wind energy and wind farms in complex terrain;
- modeling and simulation techniques;
- Turbulence;
- Aeroelasticity and loads;
- Structures and materials;
- Micro horizontal or vertical axis wind turbines.

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

Clean Technologies (ISSN 2571-8797) is an international, open access journal of novel scientific research on technology development aimed at reducing the environmental impact of human activities. Clean Technologies publishes reviews, regular research papers, communications and short notes which show a significant advance in the development of sustainable technology that reduces energy consumption, environmental pollution and/or the use of water and nonrenewable resources. Our aim is to encourage scientists to publish their experimental and theoretical research in detail as open access, serving a trustable base of advance for the scientific community.

Author Benefits

High Visibility:

indexed within Scopus, ESCI (Web of Science), Inspec, AGRIS, RePEc, and other databases.

Journal Rank:

JCR - Q2 (Environmental Sciences) / CiteScore - Q1
(Environmental Science (miscellaneous))

Rapid Publication:

manuscripts are peer-reviewed and a first decision is provided to authors approximately 33.7 days after submission; acceptance to publication is undertaken in 5.8 days (median values for papers published in this journal in the first half of 2025).
