

Special Issue

Opportunities and Challenges for Combustion Modelling and Physics

Message from the Guest Editor

The Special Issue entitled: “Opportunities and Challenges for Combustion Modelling and Physics.” The Special Issue will cover all aspects of combustion science and technology, including experimental, theoretical, and computational studies on combustion fundamentals. The topics of interest include, but are not limited to: Chemical kinetics; Laminar and turbulent flames; Spray, droplets, and supercritical combustion; Coal and biomass; Flares, detonations, explosions, and supersonic combustion; Energy systems; Diagnostics; Soot.

I am convinced that your contribution to this Special Issue will increase its value.

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

You are invited to submit the results of your research for consideration and publication in Computation, an international open access journal, which is published monthly online by MDPI.

The editorial board and staff of Computation are dedicated to establishing a benchmark journal for the world scientific and engineering communities for original research articles, reviews, conference proceedings (i.e., peer reviewed full articles), and communications, in the cutting-edge areas of computational biology, computational chemistry, computational social science and computational engineering.

Author Benefits

High Visibility:

indexed within Scopus, ESCI (Web of Science), CAPus / SciFinder, Inspec, dblp, and other databases.

Journal Rank:

JCR - Q2 (Mathematics, Interdisciplinary Applications) /
CiteScore - Q1 (Applied Mathematics)

Rapid Publication:

manuscripts are peer-reviewed and a first decision is provided to authors approximately 14.8 days after submission; acceptance to publication is undertaken in 5.6 days (median values for papers published in this journal in the second half of 2025).
