Biological Crystallization

Message from the Guest Editors

We invite the field specialists to submit original contributions or mini-reviews dealing with the crystallization by organisms at any level of organization, those studies intended to mimic the problem of biological crystallization in vitro and those manuscripts dealing with crystallization of biological materials.

Keywords

- Biomineralization
- Bio-inspired crystallization
- Crystallization of biological macromolecules
- Pathological crystallization
- Characterization of biological crystallization
- Self-assembly and self-organization

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

Welcome to Crystals, the journal dedicated to the fascinating world of crystallographic research! Crystals are more than mere decorative elements; they hold the key to understanding the fundamental structure of matter. Our mission is to explore the crucial significance of this research across various fields. From medicine to technology, chemistry to geology, crystals play a vital role. Their structure provides insights into new advanced materials, innovative drugs, and groundbreaking technologies. Through Crystals, we delve into the microscopic world to discover solutions that will shape the future. Join us on a journey through the Crystals, where science merges with beauty and innovation.
