Crystallization Process Design and Control: Intensification and Optimization

Message from the Guest Editors

We invite researchers to contribute to the Special Issue on crystallization process design and control, which is intended to serve as a unique multidisciplinary forum covering broad aspects of science, technology, and the application of crystallization. Potential topics include but are not limited to: - Novel crystal polymorph exploration - Crystal-shape control - Co-crystallization formation - Crystallization process optimisation and parameter evaluations - Designs and applications of novel crystallisers - Applications of separation and purification technology via crystallization in various systems - Exploitation of the remarkable properties of crystallization in various existent and emerging applications

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

Welcome to Crystals, the journal dedicated to the fascinating world of crystallographic research! Crystals are more than mere decorative elements; they hold the key to understanding the fundamental structure of matter. Our mission is to explore the crucial significance of this research across various fields. From medicine to technology, chemistry to geology, crystals play a vital role. Their structure provides insights into new advanced materials, innovative drugs, and groundbreaking technologies. Through Crystals, we delve into the microscopic world to discover solutions that will shape the future. Join us on a journey through the Crystals, where science merges with beauty and innovation.
