Advancing Dental Education: Synergizing Virtual Reality, Haptics, AI, and Conventional Training for Green Clinical and Community Competence and Sustainability

Message from the Guest Editors

This Special Issue "Advancing Dental Education: Synergizing Virtual Reality, Haptics, AI, and Conventional Training for Green Clinical and Community Competence and Sustainability" aims to inspire educators, researchers, and innovators to reimagine dental education as an integrated ecosystem of tradition and technology. By showcasing evidence-based practices and forward-thinking strategies, we seek to empower future dental professionals with clinical excellence, community-oriented competence, and effective patient education skills.
