Diagnosis and Management of Adverse Drug Reactions in Precision Medicine and Big Data

Message from the Guest Editor

This Special Issue aims to provide a comprehensive and up-to-date collection of research on the multifaceted aspects of adverse drug reactions (ADRs). We will explore innovative approaches in ADR detection, causality assessment, risk factors identification, pharmacogenomics of ADRs, and strategies for prevention and management. Recognizing the evolving landscape of pharmacovigilance, we also encourage submissions that delve into the role of artificial intelligence, big data analytics, and patient-reported outcomes in enhancing our understanding and mitigation of ADRs. Furthermore, we welcome studies focusing on specific populations, drug classes, and novel therapeutic agents, as well as research addressing the economic and public health impact of ADRs. We look forward to your submissions.
