Recent Advances in Epidemiological Diagnostics: Detecting and Controlling Infectious Diseases

Message from the Guest Editors

This Special Issue, "Recent Advances in Epidemiological Diagnostics: Detecting and Controlling Infectious Diseases", explores the cutting-edge methodologies and innovations in the field of epidemiological diagnostics. It compiles a diverse range of manuscripts encompassing novel diagnostic techniques, rapid test developments, and advanced data analytics for the early detection of infectious diseases. Contributions also delve into strategies for effective disease control, highlighting the integration of technology with public health measures. By showcasing these advancements, the Special Issue aims to foster a deeper understanding of how scientific progress can help mitigate the impact of infectious diseases globally.

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

You are cordially invited to submit research articles, short communications, comprehensive reviews, case reports or interesting images for consideration and publication in Diagnostics (ISSN 2075-4418). Diagnostics is published in open access format – research articles, reviews and other contents are released on the Internet immediately after acceptance. The scientific community and the general public have unlimited and free access to the content as soon as it is published. We would be pleased to welcome you as one of our authors.

Author Benefits

High Visibility:

indexed within Scopus, SCIE (Web of Science), PubMed, PMC, Embase, Inspec, CAPIus / SciFinder, and other databases.

Journal Rank:

JCR - Q1 (Medicine, General and Internal) / CiteScore - Q2 (Internal Medicine)

Rapid Publication:

manuscripts are peer-reviewed and a first decision is provided to authors approximately 21 days after submission; acceptance to publication is undertaken in 2.6 days (median values for papers published in this journal in the first half of 2025).
