Diagnostic and Interventional Radiology of Liver Diseases

Message from the Guest Editors

We are interested in submissions exploring advancements in imaging modalities, like MRI, CT scans, and ultrasound. These technologies are crucial in accurately diagnosing various liver conditions and are pivotal in early detection, significantly impacting patients' treatment plans. A significant portion is devoted to the latest minimally invasive techniques. Contributions detailing procedures, like transarterial chemoembolization (TACE), radiofrequency ablation (RFA), and other innovative interventional methods, are highly encouraged. We also emphasize the role of artificial intelligence and cutting-edge imaging in enhancing the precision and effectiveness of both diagnostic and interventional procedures. Submissions that explore integrating these technologies in clinical practice, offering new perspectives on patient management and treatment strategies, are highly encouraged.
