Advances in Surgical Pathology —Dedicated to Professor Janez Plecnik

Message from the Guest Editor

This Special Issue dedicated to the memory of Prof. Plecnick will highlight gynecological, gastrointestinal, thoracic, and skin and superficial soft tissue pathology. However, it will not be limited to those specific areas, and authors are encouraged to provide their experience in other areas of diagnostic surgical pathology. The goal is to bring important developments to the attention of the readership not only in pathology, immunohistochemistry, and diagnostic molecular pathology but also in diagnostic imaging, surgery, oncology, and epidemiological and environmental issues that may be associated with a particular condition. Even though we will attempt to be inclusive, the main central core of this particular issue will be on tumor or tumor-like conditions of diverse organ systems. The forum will be opened for comprehensive reviews, new data, uncommon case reports, radiological imaging, and medical oncological dilemmas in these areas.
