Application of Machine Learning in Disease Screening, Diagnosis and Prognosis

Message from the Guest Editor

This Special Issue will delve into the Application of Machine Learning in Disease Screening, Diagnosis and Prognosis, showcasing the revolutionary impact of AI on healthcare. It will bring together groundbreaking research that illuminates how machine learning techniques can improve the precision and speed of disease detection, enabling earlier and more effective interventions. These contributions will explore the integration of these algorithms into diagnostic processes, enhancing their accuracy, and discuss the development of prognostic models that predict disease progression. Together, these articles demonstrate the transformative potential of machine learning for advancing medical care and patient outcomes.

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

You are cordially invited to submit research articles, short communications, comprehensive reviews, case reports or interesting images for consideration and publication in Diagnostics (ISSN 2075-4418). Diagnostics is published in open access format – research articles, reviews and other contents are released on the Internet immediately after acceptance. The scientific community and the general public have unlimited and free access to the content as soon as it is published. We would be pleased to welcome you as one of our authors.

Author Benefits

High Visibility:

indexed within Scopus, SCIE (Web of Science), PubMed, PMC, Embase, Inspec, CAPIus / SciFinder, and other databases.

Journal Rank:

JCR - Q1 (Medicine, General and Internal) / CiteScore - Q2 (Internal Medicine)

Rapid Publication:

manuscripts are peer-reviewed and a first decision is provided to authors approximately 21 days after submission; acceptance to publication is undertaken in 2.6 days (median values for papers published in this journal in the first half of 2025).
